Midnight Despatches.

Fearful Firing on Sunday Night.
Excitement in the City.

VERMILION, May 1, (7 p. m.)—The negotiations for the surrender of Fort Fay have failed. The bombardment has recommenced and is now violent.

In the Assembly to-day Minister Picard stated that the Municipal Council throughout France passed off quietly yesterday except at Lyons, where the garrison in the Mayor's office is being besieged by a riotous crowd of men partially armed. M. Valentin, prefect of the department, with the assistance of General Grand, succeeded in restoring order, though not without a conflict in which the former was wounded, but not dangerously.

There also was a slight disturbance in the town of Tiers, department of Ray in Dom, which was repressed.

Paris, May 1.—The firing last night was fearful and apparently utterly reckless. Nothing to compare with it has occurred since the commencement of the war. The city is "greatly" alarmed, and groups of frightened people are collected in almost every street and avenue discussing the state of affairs.

General Oudinot's wound is a severe one and his recovery is doubtful.

The delegates from the Masonic lodges of Paris have returned from the conference at Lyons, accomplishing nothing. They report that there is a possibility of a peace arrangement with the Paris Commune.

Morning Despatches.
German Interference Threatened in the French Civil War.

Fort Lys to Surrender.
General Cluseret Arrested.

Preparations for Defending Paris.
New York, May 2.—Special correspondents telegraph the following:

Berlin, Sunday, 30th April.—An Imperial Council was held to-day to consider the situation of Paris. Prince Bismarck presided. The Emperor, and the fulfillment of the treaty stipulations, after which Germany will take independent action to establish law and order in Paris. The despatch will emphasize the wish of Germany not to interfere in the internal and political affairs of France, but will add that such interference will be necessary in the event of a revolution, and characterized by disgraceful excesses, cannot longer be tolerated for the moral and material interests of Germany, as well as those of the whole of Europe are suffering.

Private reliable information leads to the belief that it is the intention of the Germans to restore the regency as the next legitimate government, in the event of the Versailles Government being unable to enforce its authority.

Verdun, Monday night, May 1.—Fort Lys proposes surrendering, the Government troops around the Fort. Hostages are demanded by Gen. Fay as a guarantee that the fort will not be ruined, and he threatens that if it is blown up the garrison will be shot.

Gen. Cluseret has been arrested by Rossel, a young man of 25, and a Lieutenant of French Engineers.

Sixty thousand men are ready at Reims to make an attack.

Paris, Monday night, May 1.—The second assault of the fortification has been effected, close to the fortifications.

Paris is in ruins and the village has been evacuated.

I understand that the fort has been raised, and when the Versailles troops enter, it is to be fired.

Mons. the Governor of Lys, has been arrested.

The Journal Felix has been suppressed.

Dombrowski has ordered the inhabitants of Verdun to evacuate the place within 24 hours.

The cause of Cluseret's arrest was the abandonment of Lys, for which he was justly blamed.

American Despatches.

The High Commission.
Rumors Regarding the Treaty.

Professed Enumeration of its chief Points.
Fishery Rights to be Sold.

Englishmen to be Compensated.
Arrival of the "City of Antwerp."

New York, May 2.—A Washington telegraph says: Notwithstanding the secrecy that members of the Joint High Commission have professed in regard to the points of the treaty they have negotiated, there remains no doubt that it provides for the recognition of the claims of Englishmen for damages during the civil war; that a money compensation is to be given for the use of the Canadian fishing grounds; in short, that the navigation of the St. Lawrence is to be free to our vessels, and the navigation of the Canadian canals, bound only to a payment of tolls. The San Juan boundary question is not yet fully settled, but we shall probably get all the claim in this direction.

The despatch continues to assure us that the prominent points of the new treaty are as stated, that our demands for indemnity for the depredations in the "Alabama" are conceded. Englishmen in the civil war are to be indemnified, and our fishermen are to have the privilege of fishing in the waters of the United States as compensation for the loss of the "Alabama." It would be remarkable, however, if the claims of Englishmen are estimated at some $20,000,000 more than our estimate of the damages by the "Alabama."

New York, May 1.—The steamship "City of Antwerp," from Liverpool, has arrived.

LATER.
New York, May 2.—A Washington special to the "Post" says there is considerable activity in political circles today in consequence of the expressed intention of General Butler and Banks to oppose with all vigor the ratification of the treaty which the President will send to the Senate, embodying the concessions reached by the Joint High Commission. Both gentlemen are dissatisfied with the result reached on the fishery and Alabama claims questions, and are believing that the concessions made by the United States are too great, and not for the interests of the country. The fact that they intend to oppose the ratification of the treaty, which contains so much in administration circles.

—Some Chalmers, at the Berlin dispatch in Australia have lately struck a nugget of gold weighing 1175 ounces, and of the value of $100,000.

Afternoon Despatches.

The Very Latest.
DESPATCHES TO 4 P. M.

LONDON, May 2.—The "Times" Versailles correspondent says: Insurgents at Nancy are themselves throwing projectiles into the city of Paris to keep the indignation of the people against the Versailles Government. The people are not to believe that they come from the lines of the Assembly.

The "Daily News" despatch from Versailles states that the Municipal Council of the city of Paris has passed a resolution to the effect that the people are not to believe that they come from the lines of the Assembly.

A great battle is expected to occur.

A new army for the reinforcement of the existing Paris is being formed at Amiens.

THE GREAT
English and Scotch Quartettes, AND
Blackwood's Magazine,
REPRINTED IN NEW YORK BY
The Leonard Scott Publishing Co.
QUARTERLY.
THE EDINBURGH REVIEW,
NORTH BRITISH REVIEW,
LONDON QUARTERLY REVIEW,
WESTMINSTER REVIEW.
MONTHLY:
Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine.
These periodicals are the medium through which the greatest mind and only of Great Britain and Ireland, but also of Continental Europe, are constantly brought into more or less intimate communication with the minds of readers. History, Biography, Science, Philosophy, Art, Religion, the great political questions of the past and of today, are treated in their pages as the learned alone can treat them. No one who would keep pace with the times can afford to do without these periodicals. Of all the monthlies Blackwood holds the foremost place.

remedial agents, progress in the science of medicine, and the fact that the Pharmacopoeia is a popular remedial agency of the day—Sarasapinchins, forming the basis of the most successful purgatives of nose, pulp, &c. Physicians and pharmacoputists, physiologists, all, more or less, are agents in the dissemination of this Materia Medica in defiance of good, and sound medicines. The processes of preparing the Sarasapichins, and the fact that the Pharmacopoeia claim to put up specific remedies, on the one hand prescribed, are constituting another newswort. And yet, the same old, same old how are new medicines, prepared on new principles! The same old without delay of success.

will appear about five o'clock each morning (Sunday excepted) and be furnished by Carriers at the rate of $1 paid in advance, $6 otherwise. Mailers can save $5 a year, $2.50 for six months by sending in advance.

Midnight Despatches.

LONDON, May 9.—A despatch from Versailles says that the treaty is signed, and the effects of the subscription and the agreement to all parts of the Province.

M. Thiers has published a circular in which he explains the nature of the treaty. He says: "We found much ammunition and artillery in the fort. Fort Yverdon is, therefore, and the capture of the fort is a success of our arms. On Monday night, Gen. Drouot crossed the Seine and in one hundred thirty yards from the entrenchment, where he was able to batter down the bridge of Neuilly. The reign of infamous faction is drawing to a close."

800,000 Projectiles ready for Assault on Paris.

Expected Surrender of Fort Vanves.

VIENNA, May 9.—The Emperor gave an audience to the Marquis de Bonville, who presented his credentials as Ambassador of France.

NEW YORK, May 9.—A despatch dated Paris Tuesday night, says: Last night the insurgents became convinced of the impossibility of holding Paris and began its evacuation by way of Yverdon, to escape the fire of the enemy. The thousands of the army became fearful, and caused an explosion in the great fire in Yverdon, meanwhile the insurgents attempted to break them in the direction of Neuilly. They were moved down by the Government military forces. Great slaughter was caused, and the survivors made a rapid retreat.

The cannonade of Neuilly is now violent.

General Rossel now refuses the dictatorship, and accuses the Commune of weakness. He complains of the cowardice of the troops in Paris, and says that instead of fighting officers they had taken office.

Charette will be tried to-night.

The column in the Place Vendôme will be destroyed to-night.

The tricolor is planted over all.

VERSAILLES, May 9.—All the Republicans united. Their proclamation has a great effect.

Eight hundred thousand projectiles which have been taken to Fort Vanves ready for the bombardment of Paris.

The assault on Paris will be made by the 4th corps under General Douay with 10,000 men. Villancourt is compelled by the Versailles.

Fort Vanves is expected to surrender to-night.

Three hundred thousand prisoners were taken at Yverdon.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The extra session of the Senate will convene to-day in accordance with the proclamation of the President at 10 o'clock. There are not many senators yet in the city and a prospect of a full Senate is not favorable. The treaty when it is received by the Senate will be in the usual proper manner be referred to the Foreign Relations Committee, and ordered to be printed, and the Senate will doubtless then adjourn perhaps till Monday. If opposition should arise, the bill will be taken up by the Senate on Monday. The consideration of the treaty might be postponed from day to day for three days. By objections against more than one reading each day, so as to view of all contingencies, active discussion will not be likely to begin before next week. If the time for taking the final vote on the ratification is not reached by Friday, it will be likely to extend to the following Monday or Tuesday.

NEW YORK, May 10.—A special from Scranton, Pennsylvania, at a late hour last night says that the sum total of the strike is that three men are seriously wounded, one of them a miner, and two men slightly wounded, and two women hurt. The mayor of the city and several of the company were on the ground soon after the fight was over. There is no sign of another immediate outbreak, but if the laborers insist on resuming work more riots may be expected. The actual strength of the new movement that has been agitated among the laborers for the last few days is not sufficient to warrant any decisive results. The city is very much excited over the affair, and the authorities are on watch for further movements. News of a more peaceful action has been received from the Delaware and Hudson Company's men. Their delegates waited on Mr. Weston, Superintendent, this afternoon, and made the following proposition: That all enter the mine without a stated price, and submit the question of wages to arbitration, the wages to be chosen before resuming their place. Mr. Weston immediately telegraphed to Mr. Dickson, who is in New York, and is expected to-morrow.

The delegates are confident that their proposition will be accepted. Mr. Dickson, having not only suggested arbitration at their former interview with him, but repudiated a settlement on the basis of the diamond cut diamond, the view of Cardwell as his standard, thus indicating probably his intention of settling independently of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Company.

LATER.

One of the wounded men is not expected to live through night.

Honors are being paid a raid will be made by the miners on the Welsh Parkhill. Every body there is arming in self-defense, and military have been sent over to the Hampton mines to-night.

The Very Latest.

DESPATCHES TO 41 P. M.

LONDON, May 10.—The Times, in an editorial on the Treaty of Washington, says that neither the British nor the French have the right to the exclusive privilege of the navigation of the St. Lawrence. The Times says that the terms of the agreement of the St. Lawrence boundary are the subject of the treaty, and the only difficulty now is as to the plan for the adjustment of the Alabama claims. The Times doubts whether the treaty will be ratified by the Senate, but nevertheless trusts that it will be adopted and become a final solution of all difficulties between the two countries.

A news item from Paris says the column in the Place Vendôme will fall on Thursday.

There was a sharp engagement at the bridge of Neuilly, in which the Communists were defeated.

VERSAILLES, May 10.—One hundred and twenty-nine cannon were captured at Fort Leval, fifty of which have been brought to this city. Large quantities of ammunition and provisions were found in the fort, and was considerably damaged by the explosion. The soldiers rendered fatal wounds to those who drank it.

The capture of Fort Leval causes terror among the Parisians.

BELLEVILLE, COUNTY OF HASTINGS, DOMINION OF CANADA, SATURDAY EVENING, MAY 13, 187

I took it for granted he intended taking advice; I did not undertake to pay deal less furniture in it than there has had been before; could scarcely find enough chairs when we sat down to dinner; I know three whole pieces of cotton came into my house in January

Cross-examined.—I offered my wife $5 to clothe herself and the children (she number) for a year. To pay for provisions and outside expenses; my household expenses every year are in the neighborhood of £300; I heard that when Mrs. Cronk was away, Mr. Cronk had taken the furniture out of the parlor and nailed up the room; Mrs. Cronk asked me if she should come to town and live with her husband. I said she should if he would properly provide for her; after the action, for alimony.

Midnight Despatches.

VERAILLES, May 12th, evening.—The Government troops today made a determined assault upon the Convent of Ilay, and carried the position at the point of the bayonet, though it was stoutly defended by the insurgents. Many of the enemy were killed and three guns were captured.

PARIS, May 12.—The Committee of Public Safety has issued a proclamation to the people, which says:—The Republic and Commune have escaped a mortal peril. Troops had penetrated our ranks and bribed had been distributed. However, the Republic was the first step in the frame, and the opening of the gates of Paris was followed. A majority of the guilty have been arrested. A court martial is now sitting and their punishment will be exemplary. Numerous papers have been suppressed. The Commune has ordered that religious instruction cease, and that all Churches and Madonna be removed from schools.

Morning Despatches.

FRANCE.

Confiscation of Property in Paris.—Resume of Siege Operations.

Officers of Imperial Police Arrested.—General Ross Escaped.

Imprisoned Gendarmes.—(New York, May 13.—Special Paris despatches of last evening and this morning.)

FRANCE.—The Committee of Public Safety held this afternoon in the Cirque National, where it was resolved that the property of persons who had left Paris, and not returning within eight days, would be confiscated for the benefit of the widows and orphans.

The ramparts are heavily armed, and keep up a distant fire from Ilay.

General is constructing a small machine capable of firing 100 balls in succession.

Fort Ilay is armed with marine cannon, designed to bombard the ramparts.

The Versailles troops are actively engaged in constructing trenching apparatus.

Fort Malin is actively defended.

Several captives on the staff of the war office, whose names were found on the list of agents of the Imperial Secret Police, have been arrested. They were taken to the Prefecture this afternoon for identification by a staff officer, when the latter was also arrested as a bad character.

A double line of sentries has been placed across the streets, and all circulation stopped. General Ross has escaped, and the Commune is greatly enraged at the loss of their prisoner. General Bugeaux has been ordered to find him, and the authorities are telegraphing everywhere in the city, as it is supposed he is still in Paris. General Dumobroff declares that Ross is not a traitor.

Of the three Gendarmes discovered and arrested last night, one has escaped, another has been killed, and the third is a still prisoner. He declares that it is his intention to kill General Dumobroff if he gets a chance.

PRUSSIA.

Return of Bismarck to Berlin.—Grand Banquet at Frankfurt.

BREITL, May 13.—At midday Prince Bismarck returned to the city and was greeted at the station with cheers.

Last night there was a great banquet at Frankfurt, at which were present Bismarck, Armin and Rothschild. The French diplomats in the city were absent, occupied by their own departure. Rothschild was elected president of the Committee.

Afternoon Despatches.—The Very Latest.

DESPATCHES TO 4 P. M.

VERAILLES, May 13.—A letter from the Count de Chambard, making a strong bid for the throne, is published to-day. The "Le Vengeur" reports increasing disquiet among the National Guards, and says that an attempt has been made to assassinate Gen. Dumobroff.

LONDON, May 13.—Special despatches from Paris say that a levy, on mass, is expected. General La Cellie becomes generalissimo. The Commune has made a demand upon the Bank of France for ten millions of francs.

The residences of Fays and Tiers have been destroyed. The furniture of the palace of the Tuilleries, the Louvre and Elysee are to be sold to-day. The columns of Vendôme will stand. A Versailles despatch says fifty thousand troops are camped at St. Germain, and will join the forces of General Dufaure in the grand attack on Paris.

Morning Despatches.

FRANCE.

Latest from Paris.

Parade of Rebel Troops.

Dombrowski's Bravado.

Women to be Armed and Fight.

Refractory Nationals Disarmed.

Bombardment Violent.

Ambulance Fired at.

Roused in Belgium.

Government Gunboats at Severe.

Entry of Versailles Imminent.

New York, May 13.—A special despatch dated Paris, Sunday night, says that on Saturday Dombrowski issued orders that soldiers refusing to obey orders should be shot. He ordered five thousand of his men this morning at Neuilly and was received with great enthusiasm. He was met by a crowd of Parisians, and while sitting on his horse the Versailles soldiers fired and two shells of the General's uniform killed him. Dombrowski immediately took off his hat and bowed politely to them. The Communist soldiers who witnessed it cheered loudly.

Yesterday a grand procession of women marched through the city headed by bagpipers, drummers and flags, to the Hotel de Ville, where they demanded arms.

Yesterday a proclamation was issued for the organization of battalions of women immediately, for the purpose of stimulating the courage of the men. It has been ordered that all women be armed and sent to the front.

The bombardment is exceedingly violent, and shells are falling within the city in large numbers. A heavy attack from the Versailles troops is expected.

Yesterday a Captain of Engineers, belonging to the army of Versailles, being short of ammunition, mistook a company of Insurgent National Guards for troops of his own army and went up to them. He was, of course, immediately taken prisoner.

A number of Nationals who had been refractory, have been disarmed.

Yesterday the batteries of Montmartre were fired morning, all shot of the Commune and killed 30 of their own men at Le Valois.

It is stated that seven men and a woman of young women, bearing an ambulance with a red cross, were released by the 84th regiment of the line, who shot five of their number.

The Committee on War has been replaced, in consequence of its differences with the Central Committee.

The batteries at Montmartre are firing heavily on Paris.

General Rollin is reported to be in Belgium.

Six government steamboats have arrived at Seville.

The troops in the Bois de Boulogne are advancing. An entry into Paris is imminent.

AUSTRIA.

The Roman Question.

Petition to restore the Temporal Power.

A Modest Request.

A despatch dated Berlin, Sunday night, says that the Catholic Church has addressed a petition to the Emperor of Austria on the Roman question. In the petition the Emperor is requested to inform the King of Italy that the independence of the Pope is necessary to the Catholic Church, and to demand that Rome and a reliable territory shall be immediately returned to the Pope. The petitioners also say that it is the duty of all other Catholic powers and of Protestant powers also to make the demand.

The History of President

So he says to Butler—Ben's his name,
The chap that looks after the spoons;
"The way that these Democrats talk is a shame
We'll have to do something to spoil their game
Or, darn it, we're gone-up coons.
"I ain't very much on the speak, you know,
But, Ben's his name, I ain't got no more to say."

With pen or with tongue you're a buster to blow,
Although with the sword,—well—only so so,
So make out your message before you go
And put it as strong as you can.

" At home here my reign hasn't been a success
So let us go in for a fight;
A war's just the thing that suits the U. S.
And England's the nation to go for I guess;
Say, Henry my boy, what's the odds?"

"No, no," said old Ben, and he frowned dis-
 "A pretty nice mess you'd cook.
 Just remember that little affair of the Trent
 And the message the Sery old Premier sent
 How quickly it brought us to book.
 "The Lion is old, but his claws are strong.
 There's an ugly gleam in his eye,
 I guess if we riled him it wouldn't be long

Before he'd be into our wool, ding dong.
And then maybe, far wouldn't fly.

" We've a much safer game than that to play.
We are forty millions or more,
We have money and soldiers and stores O Canada,
And there's the Canadians just over the wall.
With only a paltry four.

(The only free men 'neath the sky)
Shall do as we like in this wide cuntry,
Shall navigate their rivers down to the sea
And fish as we like on their fishing grounds
Or make them show the reasons why.

" The Canucks will cave in right off, and then
We can brag of how brave we've been.
We'll sweep all the States from Nevada to N.
And you'll be elected to rule us again.

And who'll be your right hand supporter but
And 'twixt as we'll run the machine."

The President winked, took another cigar,
And Benjamin took a horn;
"I calculate, Benny, we've gotten them th

We'll knock 'em as sure as you're born."

The message was writ, and the Yanks all

Canadians might just as well go to bed
And label their houses 'To Let!'"

HISTORY AND HABITS OF OYSTERS

Heath and Home has the following this subject:—

"The eggs of the oyster are developed within the mantle, and are so very numerous that different observers estimate the number borne by a single individual from 100,000 to some millions. They are hatched within the mantle, and the young are sufficiently developed to for themselves, they are sent forth in myriads and form what is called by fishermen the oyster 'épat.' Most animals are quite nearly helpless when young; but the oyster quite reverses the usual order of things, its activity in its early youth in marked contrast with the dignified quiet of its years. Each tiny individual is provided with a shell, and each has vibratory organs to enable it to swim. These cilia are like appendages, capable of being raised, moved, and by means of these the oyster starts upon its first, and also its last journey. Should the minute oyster the many enemies that are ready to devour it, it soon ceases to wander, and upon a stone or other solid body, attaches itself to it, and begins to grow. There is a favorable 'set,' the number of young oysters to be found upon every object beneath the water is prodigious.

Every rock and stone is covered with them, they cluster upon the shells of old oysters, and even form attachments to glass bottles, clay pipes, or whatever may by chance be dropped into the water. At the end of six months the oyster is about the size of a half dollar, and at twelve months as large as a dollar—silver, not current. When about a year old, the shell is marked with longitudinal ridges or fluting, which, however, gradually disappear, and the oyster is four or five years old, the shell generally lost altogether.

“Up to a certain point an exper-oyster-man can tell the age of the oyster by the appearance of the shell. Some naturalists have considered the oyster of our northern and southern waters as two distinct species, while others not only can find no permanent difference between them, but are unable to distinguish from Ostrea edulis, the common oyster of Europe. The condition and flavor of the oyster are influenced in a marked manner by the character of the water it inhabits. Those from the sea are poor, salt, and lacking in flavour, while those which grow in fresh water are rich and succulent at points where fresh water from the mingles with that of the sea, are generally superior. Particular localities produce distinctive flavours and other characteristics; and if oysters of a poor quality be brought from their native localities, 'planted' in the more favored ones, the time acquire the qualities of those nato such situations. A large business is done in planting inferior oysters upon the mud banks, known for the excellence of their natural products. In some parts of Europe oysters with a greenish tint are preferred, and large quantities are planted in marshy localities near the sea, until they acquire color which with us would condemn the Town Council.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 17.

The Council met, pursuant to special call from the Mayor.

Present—His Worship the Mayor, Messrs. Smith, Bull, Flint, Vandusen, Lewis, Hope, Reed, Patterson, Foster and Henderson.

The Mayor stated that the meeting had been called for the purpose of considering the question of Water Works, more for information than for anything else.

Mr. Henderson considered it would be well to refer the matter which has been discussed at the time the Special Committee reported. He then recapitulated the chief features of the report which was then presented, saying that before the water works were introduced in Brantford, the expenses of the Fire Department were less than ours, and now they were much smaller than before, and that the water works were necessary to maintain an efficient Fire Department. The town of Brantford, however, was more favorably situated than Belleville in one respect—the soil was sandy, and the excavations were consequently less deep. He considered the system in operation there a good and economical one, the only question being whether we were prepared to meet the necessary expense of a complete system, for both fire and household supply he estimated at $40,000, which, he considered, would not cause an increased expenditure of more than $200,000 over the sum now laid out for fire works alone. It would probably cost $25,000 or $30,000 per annum to run the works. But the charge level for water for domestic purposes would meet this cost. They could rely on from $2,000 to $4,000 per year from the source. The total expenditure for the works per annum would be $3,000, at 8 per cent interest on the capital. He considered there was nothing more wanted than a water supply in town. Mr. Waters had not sought to pull his system, or to unduly press it for acceptance, and he had no doubt the Council would like to hear the gentlemen's views. He stated that the increase in the value of property and the lowering of insurance rates would justify running into debt to a small extent.

Mr. Foster corroborated Mr. Henderson's statements with regard to the tests of the works at Brantford.

Dr. Hope considered that the supply was needed very much more urgently for domestic than for fire purposes. The amount stated by Mr. Henderson as the cost of supplying the town with water he considered a mere drop in the bucket. If it could be supplied that cost, by all means, he would support it. He would also like to know whence the supply would be derived.

Mr. Waters, on being asked to give explanations, and he thought Mr. Henderson had given all the information that he could give without making an estimate. If it were true that water was being taken from the Bay water was pure at all times, he would recommend an expenditure of $2,000 or $3,000 more to bring the water from near Newark's Island.

A long conversation here ensued, each member asking a question or two, and the following are the answers to the various points raised: The forcing of water to the hill would require an extra steam pressure of 35 pounds per inch. The water would be raised by means of a fire and domestic purposes—that for domestic purposes would require "gauge" pumps, which run with low pressure; that for fire purposes the "rotary" pumps, to be worked at high pressure. The expense of the machinery would be $10,000, and the machinery would be $10,000. At Brantford, where the Holly system is used for domestic purposes, there are figures in use which show the water pressure, even when the river which it is drawn from is muddy. There would be the same pressure in the pipes three or four miles from the engine as at the pumping house.

Mr. Lewis wished to know if the machinery for this description of water works was driven by water at any place where they were in use. He made this enquiry because there was a valuable privilege just outside the town limits—where Meyers' chinery is located, which might be purchased by the Corporation.

Mr. Waters replied that at some places in the States the machinery is driven by water power. It would, however, require a never failing head to work in a satisfactory manner.

Mr. Lewis said there was an unfailing supply of water on the spot he spoke of, the river banks being very high and the pond extensive. During the very driest part of the season, a large mill had been run there ten hours per day.

In answer to a question from Mr. Bull, Mr. Foster said the expense of wells, &c., in town last year, was about $3,000.

Mr. Waters stated, in answer to Mr. Henderson, that the cost of the Hamilton Works was $750,000. The Brantford Works were more efficient for fire purposes than those in Brantford. The main pipe there is 8 inches diameter. The receipts for the works were $10,000. The population of 10,000, derived $17,000 per annum from that source. Steam at Brantford is got up in from 10 to 15 minutes. It was found practically that three water 75 to 80 feet through a 2,000 ft. of hose with a 1/2 inch nozzle, at a pressure of 100 pounds to the inch.

Dr. Hope considered that from 8 to 10 miles of pipe would be required to get water to the town. The water works were used for domestic purposes, and wished to have an estimate of the cost of the water of the bay would be of little use for domestic purposes without filtration, but he was not prepared to say for that use would have to be brought from near Brantford.

Mr. Waters was then heard. He detailed the reasons why he was not in favor of water works at Brantford. The difference between Belleville and Brantford con-

Mr. Hove's Fifth Letter—Vindication of his Separation from Mr. Annand.

HALIFAX, May 15.—Hon. J. Hove has a fifth letter in this evening's paper, in which he defends the course he took after he had lost the hope of getting the North American Act repealed. He concludes as follows: "Revealing a fact in reference to the course of Annand which is not public for the first time, I need not dwell upon the paper was subsequently followed in the which I took my share. Self-defence forced upon me, and I only gave to the public the opinions which I had expressed to my personal friends for weeks. Sir John Macdonald's letter which opened the negotiations that resulted in the better terms, I dated the 8th of October. It reached me about the middle of the month. Forgetting, as a statesman is apt to do, the bad manners exhibited in Halifax, Sir John, in his letter, expresses his readiness to put his Finance Minister in communication with Mr. Annand, Mr. Vail, or any other gentleman selected for the purpose of reviewing and settling if wrong could be shown, the financial position of Nova Scotia. With this letter in my hand I called upon Mr. Annand and delivered Sir John's message. He declined to be a party to the negotiation, and urged me not to go on with the correspondence. I then put this question to him squarely—'Suppose I took this letter up in my desk for six months, and give you time to try your eloquence on any means you prefer, what line will you take should you feel his answer was frank enough and prompt enough?—I will go for annulment.' Then I said—'You and I must separate on the question of annulment, for six months more of life has been wasted. We ought as well start now. I walked out of the office, took my own course, and with Mr. Lellan's brave help accomplished some practical results. Mr. Annand is now an old man. He has not got either repeal or annulment; but he still dares to keep the old man's head and spirit. He has passed away. He is dead. I do not complain, but I think, after the simple narrative of the facts, that the course of the negotiation for better terms, was taken unfairly out of his hands."

I walked out of the office, took my own course, and with Mr. Lellan's brave help accomplished some practical results. Mr. Annand is now an old man. He has not got either repeal or annulment; but he still dares to keep the old man's head and spirit. He has passed away. He is dead. I do not complain, but I think, after the simple narrative of the facts, that the course of the negotiation for better terms, was taken unfairly out of his hands."

Mr. Hove's Fifth Letter—Vindication of his Separation from Mr. Annand.

HALIFAX, May 15.—Hon. J. Hove has a fifth letter in this evening's paper, in which he defends the course he took after he had lost the hope of getting the North American Act repealed. He concludes as follows: "Revealing a fact in reference to the course of Annand which is not public for the first time, I need not dwell upon the paper was subsequently followed in the which I took my share. Self-defence forced upon me, and I only gave to the public the opinions which I had expressed to my personal friends for weeks. Sir John Macdonald's letter which opened the negotiations that resulted in the better terms, I dated the 8th of October. It reached me about the middle of the month. Forgetting, as a statesman is apt to do, the bad manners exhibited in Halifax, Sir John, in his letter, expresses his readiness to put his Finance Minister in communication with Mr. Annand, Mr. Vail, or any other gentleman selected for the purpose of reviewing and settling if wrong could be shown, the financial position of Nova Scotia. With this letter in my hand I called upon Mr. Annand and delivered Sir John's message. He declined to be a party to the negotiation, and urged me not to go on with the correspondence. I then put this question to him squarely—'Suppose I took this letter up in my desk for six months, and give you time to try your eloquence on any means you prefer, what line will you take should you feel his answer was frank enough and prompt enough?—I will go for annulment.' Then I said—'You and I must separate on the question of annulment, for six months more of life has been wasted. We ought as well start now. I walked out of the office, took my own course, and with Mr. Lellan's brave help accomplished some practical results. Mr. Annand is now an old man. French Correspondence — PARIS, May

The dreadful artillery dialogue continues, and the misraileuses reports fall like the blows of a cyclone hammer on an audience are demolished with an unparallelled intensity. The artillery, first brought to a sudden halt, is then appalling in its intensity that laughs at such a halt. Brothers dispute the ground held by struggle hilly to hilly, and fratricide of death. The soil trembles under the weight of cannon—it is the "earthquake of Paris, and a gentleman from Per" he imagines often he is his own countryman, and then after disputing between the combatants, he replies "no surrender." M. Thiers' blood and iron policy, resolved to lead Paris into national fratricide. The Federals being equally determined to remain outside the city, where they remain more than six weeks ago, and then, after giving away from the city of foreign troops, they are sent for her profound pity. The bullets of the civil war shock, and in any conquerors must have their wreaths, laurel, but in cypress.

Like another Mephistopheles, Prince Mark appears on the scene in this little Commune, by prominently assuming the role of the savior of the new Germans of Alsace and Lorraine. He shall have full "Communal" rights, a temptation almost powerful enough to induce Parisians to emigrate to the pyramids. By the bye, as a phase of statistics, it would be interesting to know how many inhabitants of the conquered territory have left to test France.

M. Picard, who, as Home Minister, announces to the Assembly the programme of the Government, says that McMahon, assures us that 'this is not an insurrection in Paris approaching the 18th July. Few in the city can discover the cause for such assertion, although there are who do not long for such a consummation. We have heard this assurance so often it is now ranked among 'the positive nights' of the theatres, or the 'firm wells' of popular artists. Moral force, rather than physical force should conquer, otherwise, the dissensions and conflicts that will arise after the victory, will be more fatal to France than the transmission of allowing Paris to elect a Municipal Assembly.

police, direct her own municipal affairs, and decide upon her civic duties. Grant her these M. Thiers, offer them to her, and the capital talked over to an arrangement. Republic must be maintained at all time or the question of this form of government fully and fairly submitted to the nation. Your present Assembly is a slave of monarchical factions and hearted Republicans—the former, united to impose its salus on the latter and wanting the pluck to overthrow they cannot replace; the latter, interested in number one, which comes the be-all and the end-all of politics.

Thiers will be swallowed up. He is hated by the legitimists and with compassion by the Orleans Republicans accept him, as he avails to be one of theirs, with the consequence to be expected from a convert. He spent the Psalmist's span of life in war to everything Republic, and now for the new faith is limited to show to be a Republican is the most serious qualification for offices of trust. Republicans that are made Prefects, Senators and Generals, and that the Republican Assembly which demands the return of Henry the Fifth, compels for the creatures displaced by them their second empire, and declines to grapple with the practical problems of Paris.

political event—clearly the result of many party divisions as China's mandarins—the broad fact remains a Republican victory and an overwhelming claim, that henceforth in the elections the Assembly the towns must be represented. No city in France with a population over 20,000 can appoint a Mayor. The Government reserves the right of having the chief magistrate as a wire-puller. But the towns are unting to possess this right, who complete their municipal franchise will work in with the capital to be placed on a similar footing. If the 'peaceful revolution' by appointing Mayors, will the Government let them—or cannot it in any conscientious manner continue to bombard Paris for demands which are not only impossible, but also, in the long run, self-defeating?

The Commune does not gain strength from the Government's attitude.

natural selection, of the survival of the fittest. The most singular thing about Clesneux's tumble is, that no one knows exactly the cause of it. The journals that he has written are full of facts and describe him as a beautiful muller, and adept at organizing everything in three days; he took three weeks to disorganize his own party, and was never able to sense for his task-masters. Having become a naturalized American, created a prejudice against him, and the affair of the left of jury, where he was expected to force a vote, he had been obliged to take this occasion to cast him aside. A Frenchman can understand the subjects of every country from Julius to the Palse becoming a naturalized citizen, but he cannot understand a man being so contrary to the laws of nature. His successor, Rosael, is but 38 years of age, and has qualities about the greatest that ever sprang him.

Clesneux is very blond; his manner cool and reserved; like Dombrowski and Gladstone, he wears glasses, and as Clesneux prefers a billy-cock hat and muffs, to a top hat, he is much more comfortable than he is, he is deeply dissatisfied to associate with the Bonapartist officers, who in the Swiss Guards of our present Comptroller. the half-hour for letters and news papers. After a time, anxiety about public affairs disappears, and in the same proportion the interest in the world's news becomes friendly news. In addition, strangers are free to leave, which takes away the remembrance of the "investment." The people are being erected at a rapid rate, thanks to perce Galliard, by trade a shoemaker and now barrister general in chief, since Rochefort has been banished to the island of St. Pierre, one of the sons of St. Christopher who fill high office under every revolution—even to the present day. The people are being forecast in denouncing newspapers, the barricades are in apple pie order: after the trenches in front, the finishing stroke is to be made by the flying column, which is going on with rockets or petroleum bombs, but the result is not known. The fighting is still of the same desultory character, and the people are being taken, with the red flag still waving over its ruins, and its expiring agencies even serving a terror for the Versailles. There is no more to be said, and the people's officers but makes up his mind for the future. There is not other means viable to terminate the quarrel but wading through the sea of blood, and the people are being terminated by flashings with kishinshes.

had to flee the canon, from which they were firing salutes. In their anxiety to discharge their gun every thirty seconds, the gunners were not sufficiently careful in aiming the springs, the consequence being that in ramming home the charge it exploded, setting off the three men who were engaged in firing. The names of these unfortunate sufferers are Hull, whose wife was a sister of the late John Hull who is married man and has a large family, had his hand completely blown off and James Ormerod, a young man, of about 25, whose hand was nearly severed, besides others who were hospitalized and suffering from fearful manner. The men were immediately taken to town, and received prompt medical attention. The hand of each of the men was amputated and Surgeon General Moore does not despair of saving their lives.

HOUSES DESTROYED BY THE EARTHQUAKE.
—The Ottawa Free Press tells the destruction of a house at Portage Du Nord, by the earthquake during the night of the 20th inst., occupied by Mr. Geo. Swallow. In the middle of the night the house began to tremble and the furniture was thrown with a heavy lurch, it tumbled into the cellar along with it. There were eleven persons sleeping in the house that night, including Mr. Swallow, who, wonderful to relate, one of them escaped without receiving any injury, although the house was thrown into ruins."

It is the intention of Mr. Wilmont to export from 10,000 to 12,000 salmon each to the Moira and Salmon Rivers within a week. The fish will be packed in ice and shipped as far as St. John's. The export of breeding salmon under Mr. Wilmont's supervision, has hitherto been attended with success. The fish are taken from the rivers have already been stocked, and during the present week the number of fish taken from the rivers of the county have averaged about 10,000 per day. In view of the attempt made to stock the Rivers in this County with salmon, it is not surprising that the Government of this Division to keep the rivers clear saw-duck will not receive the hearty support of the people. The Government owners, but of the people. The Government regulations established by the Fisheries Department are strictly carried into effect. The Government will not allow more than three or four years before any inland rivers and creeks will be thoroughly stocked with this delicious fish.

The "Blessed" Rain.
All Nature rejoiced and shouted aloud for joy. The first light upon the coming of the rain was the first light of gladness. The birds drank it in—the leaves opened and caught it after drop—the flowers put forth the brightest blossoms—the grass spread out thicker and greener looked—the wheat and corn grew up—the gloriously and the rye lifted up their heads—the glories gathered to the parched roots and the barren soil was cleaned out their dusty throats and made glad melody in the heavens—the cattle upon a thousand hills were grateful for the change—and man, the most ungrateful of creatures, could not express the glad utterances of thanksgiving for the beneficent gift which the great Governor of all good sent us last night. The rain was timely and its money value to the country scarcely be calculated. We have had the winter and the latter rain, and we have the promise of a bountiful harvest. Let us take courage and not forget the source from whence all these blessings come.

DR. DRYDEN. Mr. Vankoughnet, Clerk of the Crown in Chancery, upon being applied to by the Attorney-General, to appear at Durham, declined to accept Mr. Crowe's reading of the new election law as correct, and avowed that he had no power to do so. He then, through Mr. Blackwell, wrote a strong letter to the Attorney-General, and appealed to the law for relief. Through one of his partners he called to one of the higher courts for a writ to compel the Attorney-General to read the law of the Crown in Chancery to issue the writ.

The case was argued and the Court refused to consider it, judgment, which was given in favour of the Attorney-General, sustaining Mr. Vankoughnet, in the writ he had taken. The Court held that it could not issue for a new election, and that the Attorney-General was not bound to read the law of the Legislature had met—a decision which is in harmony with all English constitutional practice in this matter.

WOLF—Two men, named George Wolf, sub-editor, and A. Lodge, night editor of the Montreal Gazette, were drowned in the Machine Rapids on the afternoon of May 1. They left Montreal at 1 p. m., and came together, procured a boat, and started from defective skill in management, drifted into the fatal gulf. Spaight had a superior education. He leaves a wife and child.

RAILWAY ACCIDENT—About ten o'clock yesterday, the mail and passenger train going west on the track about three miles east of the city, was wrecked on the Machine Rapids. The lamp set fire to the post car, and, nearly all the mails were lost. A few of the passengers were killed.

to the mountains at an awful pace. The roar of the flames amongst the pine trees and other resinous timber, as the wind whistles through, is awful, and at night the whole country is illuminated as the fires rush up the tall pines, spruce and white birch. Bush roads are everywhere in many places with the trunks of trees while the stifling, hot, smoking smoke makes the woods like a furnace. The pine mountains in the rear of Temagami, Wakfield, Desbouché and other ships, on both sides of the Gattineau, being swept clear of their timber, while the houses and dwellings of many of the Indians in the valleys have been destroyed. It appears to prevail everywhere to the north on account of so much land being cleared by settlers, and unless there is a rain within a short time millions of with breaking into a freight car on the Grand Trunk Railway between Belleville and Gananoque. The car contained a quantity of dynamite, which was carried through freight cars, sealed in this manner, which was reported by the conductor to be securely fastened when Grand Trunk Railway cars were loaded at Brockville. The car-checker here discovered the seal broken at this station, and found prisoner in the car. He was arrested by Constable Allen, but nothing was feared on his person. Capt. Nunn examined the freight, and found that some of the boxes were empty. It was composed, had been tampered with, and the dynamite had been removed. The car was taken to Gananoque, and had the seal broken. The dynamite was found in the car for the purpose of having a free ride. Remanded till to-morrow.

Worth of timber will be destroyed." The Free Press has telegrams from different sources, showing the progress of the fire. The farmers were driven out on the 24th inst. and on a short distance of Eggsville, and in villages Lewis and Ashes were falling. The saw and shingle mill in Eggers, with an immense quantity of logs and lumber were destroyed by fire on the 24th inst. The saw mill at Duncanville, was destroyed on the 24th inst., also an mill, carding mill and saw mill. The same paper says: "As we go to press tomorrow I enclose with smoke and fire, a telegram from the Free Press that prevailed in the country around us. It says: "After this afternoon, but contradictory, that there was a fire in the bush country, about 20 miles from Rockville, and that the rain fall extended to the Ottawa river, it is probable the greater part of the woods be extinguished."

BOBACAYEON, May 23.

Yesterday the steamer Ogema ran with a very large excursion party from Peterborough en route to Lindsay. Returning in the evening, owing to the quantity of smoke coming over the waters from the fires in the boilers, the boat was driven from the half way between Peterboro and Chemoung lakes, and grounded with about 800 excursionists on board. In endeavoring to get the boat off, the engine was started, and, owing to the weight of the passengers, the bow of the boat's heads, named Indian Bay, was drawn by the upsetting the small boat in which he, with another, went out with the anchor. The boat was stove off at a stroke this

Midnight Despatches.

Awful Scenes in Paris.

The Archbishop and 50 Priests Murdered.

Confusion Extending.

New York, May 25.—A correspondent telegraphed from Versailles last night:—
Paris is being burned to the ground. The map and framed legends deliberately fired the Louvre, Tuileries, Grand Palais, Hotel de Ville, Ministry of Finance, churches, and every public building in the city. The conflagration is rapidly extending.

The correspondent tried to enter Paris, but found it impossible. Watching the fire he noticed a tremendous increase, and on third of the city, he says, will be burned before long.

Another correspondent from Versailles telegraphed:—
"The insurgents have beaten everywhere except at Belleville, Montmartre and Auteuil. The chief are skulking. Dalmatians is a prisoner. Dumbrowski is a prisoner of the Prussians. M. Thiers announces that all Nationalists are to be executed immediately."

A letter from Paris says that the Versailles are masters and the city is a shambles.

Verdun, May 25, (cable)—Archbishop Darbois, his bishop and nearly 50 priests were murdered in cold blood at the Mass prison on Tuesday night.

Several leaders of the Commune were shot to death after being tried by a drum head court martial.

Verdun, May 25, (cable)—Paris 25.—Since noon a strong military cavalry unit was sent which blows the flames of the fire in the direction of the city. The government has been ordered to evacuate the Belleville quarter. Communication with the interior of the city is still closed.

Verdun, May 25.—M. Thiers read an official despatch in the Assembly regarding the situation at Paris. He said that the government has been ordered to evacuate the Belleville quarter. Communication with the interior of the city is still closed.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Consumption.

Dr. A. L. Russell who has for many years been known in the public through the Daily Intelligencer as the inventor of remedies for the lungs, writes:—
Chicago, Jan. 28, 1884.

Dear Sir:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 15th inst. in regard to the use of my medicine in the treatment of consumption. I am glad to hear that you have been successful in curing the young and old who have been afflicted with this disease. I am also glad to hear that you have been successful in curing the young and old who have been afflicted with this disease.

Yours respectfully,
A. L. Russell.

CONCENTRATED LYE.

AMONGST the many imitations of this concentrated lye, it is one by a Druggist in Montreal, for which he has borrowed the name Extract of Soap; and by the way, perhaps he can enlighten us as to what Extract of Soap means. Well this individual, who has got the pump of IMITATION so largely developed, that he has tried the hand on the majority of popular articles which have been brought out for the last few years. This individual, who borrows other people's brains, trading on the reputation of an old established house, of which, by a strange compensation of Providence, he has got the management, is palming off his Extract on the public in place of the genuine. Purchasers will notice that the "genuine" has the subscriber's address stamped on each tin. For sale by all the leading Druggists and Grocers throughout the Dominion.
